
RETIREMENT in good physical and fiscal health is the goal most of us seem to seek during our so-called productive years.

True, we have observed some cases where those who reach the retirement plateau have found it is not the Utopia they had anticipated. But these dissident mutterings have been quite muted, as far as we have been concerned.

It has not deterred us from our own personal objective along those lines.

We are always pleased, in a sort of envious way, when someone reaches his retirement point and is more or less unscathed from the rigors of earning a living in his chosen field.

This, of course, is leading up to the fact that Bill Henley, superintendent of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District for the past 21 years, has submitted his resignation effective June 30, 1965.

He is concluding 30 years in education as teacher, principal and superintendent.

We have known Bill for the past nine years and are pleased to count him among our personal friends in the community.

Bill has done a remarkable job in the local school district and it speaks well for his ability as an administrator to have "grown" with the district. He has made a record of which he can be justifably proud.

We are sorry to see him leave but we are also pleased for him that he has reached the retirement plateau with the minimum number of scars of battle.

We are certain that he and Mrs. Henley will relish this respite from the arduous tasks of the past 30 years.

If it sounds as if we are drooling a wee bit, we are.

TEMPLE CITY, where we served time as editor of the paper on two different occasions, made the headlines recently when a wealthy young man was charged with the killing of his twin brother.

Naturally we were asked by many, if we knew the parties involved.

We didn't, although we knew the building where the shooting occurred.

The shooting made nationwide news.

For example, we received a front page of the Kansas City Star this week from Ralph Turner, former publisher of the Temple City Times. The Turners were visiting in Kansas City when the story broke.

The Star ran a picture of the accused twin on the front page and a big story about it on the next page.

Ralph had marked the picture and story for us, and he had penciled in the margin: "George,

Both sides agree on truce in battle over creek land

Under the terms of the cease-fire order issued by both sides Monday night in the Battle of Los Gatos Creek, the rezoning hearing scheduled for next Tuesday by the Planning Commission will be continued.

The length of the truce will depend on the results of negotiations between the two warring parties, Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District and the City of Campbell, over the future destiny of 10-acres of creek land near Camden Avenue.

Both sides on Monday agreed that it was possible to resolve their differences around a conference table. They directed their respective staffs to work out details.

The Battle of Los Gatos Creek developed when SCVWD announced that 10-acres adjoining their percolation ponds on the creek were surplus and would be offered for sale as industrial land for $275,000 after the district had filled and compacted the land at an estimated cost of $90,000.

Campbell city officials have maintained that the 10-acres should be retained for park purposes as part of the proposed link of parks along the creek.

Failing to interest the county in acquiring the land, Campbell began rezoning procedures which would change the zoning from industrial to agricultural to allow park development The indirect effect of the rezoning would be also to lower the price of the land.

In the meantime, SVWD directors announced that, unless the county or the city would move to acquire the property in 40 days, the land would be placed on the block to the highest bidder.

As part of the armistice terms, SCVWD directors informally agreed Monday (with Bob Sapp and Herman Gerdts speaking for them) to withhold any negotiations for selling the property until after the city and SCVWD and talked things over.

Sapp pleaded the case of the water conservation district before the City Council.

Sapp claimed that the

Junior C. of C. gives flag pole to city hall

Campbell's city hall will soon fly the American flag through the courtesy of the Campbell Junior Chamber of Commerce.

On Monday night the City Council accepted with thanks the offer by the Jaycees of a 35-foot pole that will be placed on the city hall. Jim Pluth of the Junior Chamber of Commerce made the offer which was gratefully accepted by the city.

Although the fire station next door to the city hall has long had a flag and flag pole, no flag has flown over the city hall since the city took over the building in 1957.

The pole will be installed by employees of the public works department and firmly placed on the south end of the porch area of the city hall. It will be embedded in concrete.

According to present plans, when the new fire station is built on Sunnyoaks, the flag pole now at the station on Central Avenue will probably be moved to that location.

Service station loses in appeal

By a 4-1 vote, with Mayor Charles Rose dissenting, the City Council Monday denied the appeal of Mrs. Amelia Vahl for a service station to be built at La Pradera and Campbell Avenue.

Mrs. Vahl, represented by George J. Abdou, Jr., had asked the Council to overrule the decision of the Planning Commission denying a use permit for the gas station.

In his presentation to the Council, Abdou said that the oil company involved would agree to make the station a rustic type and landscape it in any manner the city would demand.

He claimed that the reason given that there was "no need for a station" was not a fair one in the free enterprise system. The area was zoned commercial now, he added, which allows stations.

Mayor Rose in voting against the denial, claimed that other stations had been allowed in the area thus setting the precedent.

Board accepts Henley's resignation with regret

In a meeting in which those attending had difficulty keeping their emotions in check, the Board of Trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District last Thursday night accepted the resignation of William C. Henley effective June 30, 1965. Henley is concluding 21 years as district superintendent.

The trustees unanimously expressed their regret in a unique show of respect and confidence. Prior to the acceptance, they approved a new four year contract for the superintendent on the motion of Howard Guilbert, board president. But Henley stood by his letter.

Although the board acted on a number of voter district matters at the meeting, the resignation of Henley was the highlight of the evening. Picture-taking of the historical occasion occupied considerable time as these adjoining photos testify.

Trustee Howard came unprepared for the picture-taking activities and was wearing sports shirt without a tie. But Neal Royer, assistant superintendent, came to his rescue. He literally gave Howard his "shirt off his back" (photo on right.)

Joining with the trustees in paying their respects to the retiring superintendent were the principals of the various schools in the district who attended the meeting en masse.

John Duncan, principal of Moorpark School and senior principal in point of service, (lower photo on right) spoke for the group of principals and was joined by Adrian Cibilich, principal of Sherman Oaks, (lower photo) in paying tribute to the leadership ability exemplified by the retiring superintendent over the years.

County committee denies Rincon-Latimer openings

Campbell gained only one ally (Sunnyvale) last week when the County Traffic ways Committee by a 7-2 vote denied this city's plea to open Rincon and Latimer to the San Tomas Expressway.

THE CITY COUNCIL ON MONDAY VOTED TO APPEAL THE DECISION OF THE TRAFFICWAYS COMMITTEE TO THE COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS. THE DATE WAS NOT SET FOR THE APPEAL.

The vote came after the committee's staff members, headed by James T. Pott, county public works director, had reported unfavorably on the request of Campbell to modify the expressway agreement.

Mayor Charles Rose, as spokesman for this city's case, told the Trafficways Committee members that the closing of Latimer and Rincon would magnify the city's east-west traffic problem. He added also that the expressway would dump traffic into the Camden

Bill Henley to retire

After serving the Campbell Union (elementary) School District as superintendent for 21 years, William C. Henley has resigned effective June 30, 1965.

His resignation was accepted with regret by the Board of Trustees last Thursday night.

At the meeting, board members took turns paying their respects to the retiring superintendent. So did the principals of the various schools in the district who were present.

It has been our privilege to have known Bill Henley for the past nine years and we know him pretty well. We, too, echo the sentiments expressed by the trustees and the principals.

Under Henley's leadership the district has built 19 schools. His first assignment in Campbell in 1946 was as combination principal and superintendent and became fulltime superintendent when San Tomas and Moorpark schools were added.

We think it is a tremendous tribute to Henley that as the district grew so did he. His was not an easy task in coping with the tremendous growth problems but Bill managed it.

We feel that Bill's letter of resignation which was submitted to the board is deserving of recognition to all concerned. That is why we are publishing it in its entirety. It clearly shows his unselfish devotion to the district and even more clearly how much he recognized the ability of his aides who made his job less difficult.

The letter follows:

BOARD OF TRUSTEES
Campbell Union School District

Dear Friends and Boss:

With this letter, and mixed emotions, I submit my resignation as Superintendent of the Campbell Union School District effective at the close of the current fiscal year - June 30, 1965. I submit my resignation at this early date to give the Board opportunity to make an early selection of a qualified successor in order that he may form plans with the Board for the succeeding year.

My twenty-one years as Superintendent of this district have been very satisfying ones. My relationships with you Board members, your predecessors, the people of the community, the many public and private agencies, and the press have been most congenial and full of mutual confidence.

I must pay tribute to my immediate clerical staff: Mrs. Maxine Morton, Secretary; Mrs. Mary DeLong, Personnel Assistant, and Mrs. Melva Miller, Administrative Clerk for their personal help, devotion, and loyalty. The several school faculties, the principals, the office staffs, and the operating personnel have all, over the years, exhibited a performance of the highest quality as shown by pupil achievement, good physical condition of schools, grounds, and equipment, by the efficient conduct of essential business affairs, and by continued existence of good rapport. All of these personnel have played the major role in maintaining the high standards of the Campbell Union School District.

Without the superior help of my immediate professional assistants and their staffs, I could not have covered the broad scope of the superintendency. Mrs. Helen Petersen, the Director of Instruction, has given stimulus to and organized a top quality instructional program with many special services for the students of the district.

C.E. Bradley, Business Manager, has relieved the Superintendent of many non-educational functions and has organized the business services, building program, maintenance, transportation and food service divisions into the service of pupils and education.

Neal Royer, Assistant Superintendent, has been the Superintendent's strong, right hand for the past nine years. He keeps a watchful eye on the several operations and lends a helping hand to all. He sets the patterns for the operation of the schools, for the functions of the educational service staff of the Director of Instruction, and supervises the selection and placement of the major portion of all personnel. He advises and helps the Superintendents, is ready and able, and does take charge of the district in the Superintendent's absence.

Neal Royer, I recommend to you for your most earnest consideration as an administrator of the highest quality. He is an excellent organizer, a man of vision, and good delegator of education functions. I have been most happy to have Neal as my top staff member.

It is the hope of Mrs. Henley and myself to continue to make our home in Campbell; to have more time to enjoy the association of so many of you with whom we have had so many pleasant contacts; to keep a continued interest in "our schools" - perhaps do some substitute teaching or administrative chores; do some traveling for which we have had little time; get more schooling; pursue several hobbies --woodworking, crafts, photography, golfing, etc., and of course, see a great deal more of our children and grandchildren.

I wish you, the Board, your new administrator, and the people of this community continued progress toward better and better education for the future leadership and citizenry of this community and our nation.

Cordially,
Your friend and servant
WM. C. HENLEY

interchange to add more confusion to already bad situation. Opening of the two streets, he pointed out, would tend to funnel off some of this traffic.

Pott claimed that Campbell would have five openings on the expressway according to present plans. He included Winchester Blvd., and Payne Ave. in addition to Budd, Hamilton, and Campbell. Rose maintained that Budd Ave. goes "nowhere".

Pott claimed that intersections on the expressway should be at least a half-mile apart and Latimer and Rincon are about half this distance. Campbell's argument that this policy did not hold in Santa Clara where there are 14 accesses, was of no avail.

Pott also added, as a counter-thrust, that the most logical solution to Campbell's problem would be for the city to build grade separations. He estimated the cost of each separation at $500,000.

Some of the members of the Trafficways Committee indicated that they were in sympathy with Campbell's problem but felt that the policy of limited access on the expressway, as outlined by Pott and his staff, should not be modified.

When it came to the vote, Sunnyvale was the only city to cast its ballot with Campbell.

announced rezoning intention of the city was the same as placing "a shotgun in our back". He was certain that much could be gained from talking it over, provided the city would agree to halt the rezoning procedure.

Sapp also touched on other aspects of the area owned by the SCVWD. He pointed out the advantages of other parcels compared to the controversial 10-acre parcel.

Councilman Ralph Doetsch agreed that negotiations would help and suggested that perhaps a trade could be worked out around the conference table.

Sapp also emphasized that the district directors were not "bad guys" as news stories on the situation would make out. He said the directors were interested in what was best for the county as a whole and that they were vitally interested in improving the creek area for park purposes.

He pointed out Vasona Park as a shining example in which the SCVWD cooperated in making this area the show place on the creek.

Council members unanimously agreed to advise the Planning Commission to continue the hearing next Tuesday after the two SCVWD directors present declared that they would hold up any sale of the land.

City Attorney Joe Bonacina advised the city to go ahead with the hearing because the notices had already been issued.

Kids get treats on December 22

Campbell's Junior Chamber of Commerce will play Santa Claus in a big way to the youngsters of Campbell on Tuesday, December 22.

The Jaycees will distribute candy and a cartoon will be shown at Campbell Theatre from 1 to 4 p.m.

All children, from ages five through eight, are welcome free of charge, on a first come, first served basis.

The Jaycees point out that this Santa treat will give Mom and Dad a chance to get their last minute Christmas shopping done while the children are having a good time.

District plans to get site despite protest of Saratoga

Trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District plan to go ahead and acquire a 10-acre site on Allendale Ave. in have maintained that Allendale was too nar- Saratoga despite a negative report of the planning commission of Saratoga.

Saratoga officials row and thus it would be hazardous for youngsters going to and from school.

The trustees instructed the administration to proceed to secure the approval of the State Department of Education on the proposed site. Following this approval, the staff was directed to the other steps necessary to acquire the site.

In another action, the trustees decided to pay $24,711 from the district's undistributed reserve for assessments of the Moorpark Ave. Storm Drainage Improvement District. The board approved this method in preference to paying it back on a loan from the county at 5% interest over a five-year period. Three schools are involved in the district.

The board also denied, as not being proper, a claim for damages of $25,000 filed against the district for injuries suffered by Michael Williams, at Hamilton School.

Another claim for $25,000 filed jointly against the district and the West Valley College on behalf of Dorothy E. Triplett was referred to the county counsel and the district's insurance agent.

The board also deferred for further study the request of Desmond Johnson, 15300 Quito Road, to transfer 30 acres of land in the southwest corner of the Campbell district to the Los Gatos district.

City Hall briefs

Meeting until midnight on Monday, the City Council touched a lot of bases in covering the lengthy agenda.

The Council:

ACCEPTED with regret the resignation of John D. Kelly as chairman of the parks and recreation commission because he was moving out of the city.

EMPLOYED Walter J. Doyle for $275 to appraise properties needed for the cutting through of Latimer to Central.

AGREED to underwrite the engineering services necessary before the formation of an off-street parking district as proposed by the Downtown Redevelopment Committee.

APPROVED reluctantly (Ed Rogers and Charles Rose dissenting) the agreement with William J. Martin and C. Zeiler who plan to build a warehouse and office at 190 Dillon. The bone of concentration was the time allowed (until November 1967) for the property owners to remove the trailers now on the lot.

DENIED the request by the school district for a crossing guard at Hacienda and Burrows Road based on the report of William Wren, acting city engineer. But agreed to stop signs and other warnings to be placed on the street.

SET December 28 as the hearing date for the amendment to the general plan that would earmark creek land for recreational uses.

ADOPTED as policy (with Rogers dissenting) based on a study session between the planners and the council that commercial development should be encouraged on Hamilton Avenue, including the proposed extension of that street.

DEFERRED action on the purchase of a new accounting machine until the city can get more than the $1200 allowed on trade-in on a new machine that costs $9,336.

DIRECTED the city staff to come up with a recommendation for a group health insurance program for city employees.

Campbell City officials are more than irked over the adamant attitude of James T. Pott, director of the county department of the county department of public works, with respect to this city's request to allow Rincon and Latimer to cross the San Tomas Expressway.

The plan now calls for both these streets to deadend at the expressway.

Mayor Charles Rose, especially, was bitter over the manner in which the county public works director belittled this city's request. And we believe that the mayor's point is well taken.

Pott, as head of the county department in charge of the expressway projects, had every right to oppose this city's request, if he felt it was not conducive to good planning from a technical point of view.

We have no quarrel with that.

But Pott apparently strayed far afield from the just technical points in refuting this city's case, according to Mayor Rose.

The county public works director allegedly made some implications that had nothing to do with the case, plus emphatically asserting that the answer was "NO" in his report to the county trafficways committee.

We feel that this highly placed county employee in this instance may have become over-zealous or perhaps the responsibilities of his office are weighing so heavily on him these days that he has lost his perspective.

He may have forgotten (temporarily, we hope) that even a county public works director should be open-minded and courteous when dealing with matters pertaining to the public interest.

SEMANTIC DEPARTMENT: At a recent study session of the Planning Commission and the City Council two words used quite frequently illustrated the wide-range we have in the English language.

Dick Hogan, planning director, sort of raised the level when he used the rather uncommon word "NUCLEATE" to describe certain phases of concentrated zoning.

On other occasions "HARD-NOSED" was used to describe another city action.

It was sort of a leveling off process, one might say.

UC coach brings stars

Coaches and players starred together at the Campbell High sports banquet last week.

Coach Ray Woolsey, of the University of California, was the principal speaker at the event which honored members of the various athletic teams participating in fall sports program at the school.

Cross-country, C and D basketball, and B and varsity football teams were introduced at the affair held in the high school cafeteria.

Honored guests also included Craig Morton, All-American from Cal and Campbell High grad; Jack Schraub, who broke most of the existing pass-catching records at the university; Duane Mayfield, another Campbell High grid great who starred on the Cal frosh team and Pat Griffith, another Campbell High grad who competed in track events for the American women's team in competition with Russia.

L. E. (Bill) Means, local druggist who for many years voluntarily served as trainer of Campbell High football teams, and a long-time Cal booster, was master of ceremonies at the banquet.

Morton in a brief talk recalled that he and Jack had played football together ever since they were in the fourth grade in the Campbell schools.

He reported that they had both signed contracts with the Dallas professional team.

He also mentioned that they both had played on the "B's" together at Campbell High then on the high school varsity, next on Cal's frosh team and finally for three years on the Cal's varsity.

West Valley cagers compete in tournament

West Valley's basketball team will conclude a busy week of action when they go to Vallejo Thursday, Friday, and Saturday to participate in the annual Coast Conference Tournament.

Over the preceding weekend the Vikes traveled to Modesto to face Modesto J.C., entertained Chabet the following night, and after a day's rest, hosted rival Foothill last Monday night.

First game for West Valley in the tourney will be against Cabrillo at 4:45 on Thursday. Cabrillo will be tough as they have already beaten San Jose City College this year. Depending on the outcome of the Seahawk clash, the Vikes will face either Marin or Monterey the following night. Favorites in the tourney will be Menlo and Vallejo. Vallejo is the defending champions having defeated Monterey for 1st place last year.

The cagers win over Modesto can be attributed to speed and good shooting. The taller Pirates completely deminiated both boards but the Vikes were able to pull it out 78-68.

District ninth graders take part in national math study

More than 500 ninth grade students of the Campbell Union High School district are participating in the National Longitudinal Study of Mathematical Abilities, according to report this week of Dr. Wade Schroeder, director of research and guidance for the district.

In recent years, Dr. Schroeder points out, educators have become increasingly aware of the need to align math curricula with the demands of the modern world. The mathematics study is an attempt to establish a course of study appropriate to the needs of an era which emphasizes science and technology.

Creation of such a curriculum, Dr. Schroeder explains, calls for information about the processes involved in the learning of mathematics and the various factors which affect this learning.

"Because a study of the effectiveness of education must consider the development of the student," Dr. Schroeder adds, "a study that would be longitudinal as well as cross-sectional was needed. It is to fill this need that the National Longitudinal Study of Mathematical Abilities was begun".

Data from the study will provide school administrators and teachers with information which will enable them to do the most effective job of teaching mathematics to all kinds of students.

Fiction:

THE ITALIAN GIRL by Iris Murdoch

Though he would not, perhaps, have admitted it, Edmund Harraway considered himself a very superior person, almost a saint. He looked down on people in general and on his earthly brother Otto in particular. Finally the would-be saint collapsed. In Otto he no longer saw his antithesis but himself. Another excellent Iris Murdoch novel.

EVERY ISLAND FLED AWAY by John Sanford

In Every Island Fled Away, Sanford tells the story of Carol Pierce, a minister in a small California-coast town, a man tortured by memory and doubt, uneasy with himself and the rest of the world. His parishioners, like their minister, lead normal lives, while beneath the surface each harbors a secret rage. Sanford writes a story both profound and relentless in its significance.

DALLAS JUSTICE by Melvin Belli

Melvin Belli tells the story of the Jack Ruby defense, as it was waged in the public glare of the court room, watched and reported by hundreds of the world's top newsmen, as it was hammered out in the judge's chambers, and in the bare cell where the erratic Ruby met with his defense lawyers. His story takes Dallas to task for making this forlorn little man the scapegoat of a wounded city, but the approach is not destructive. This is an intensely interesting, controversial book.

I PASS by Y. A. Tittle

This is Tittle's story in his own words with the warmth and humour so characteristic of this matchless athlete. It is the story of the man who exerted the greatest influence on Tittle during a long and brilliant career. This is a heart warming story of a man who continues to face the toughest possible competition long after a lesser man would have retired.

WAR ON POVERTY by Hubert H. Humphrey

Vice-president elect Hubert Humphrey examines the reasons why thirty-five million of our people--including some fifteen million children--live in abject poverty, and offers for the first time a complete and realistic analysis of what we can and must do to eliminate poverty altogether.

Board moves fast to replace classrooms destroyed by fire

Campbell Union School District board of trustees took prompt action to replace a Quito School classroom destroyed by fire in the late afternoon Thursday prior to the board meeting.

Trustees authorized the administration to proceed immediately with plans for replacement and to initiate bidding procedure as soon as possible.

Meanwhile Assistant Superintendent Neal Royer had lined up a kindergarten and music room in Marshall Lane School to house pupils from the destroyed third grade classroom and an adjacent second grade room also damaged by the fire.

During the day on Friday the pupils affected, from the rooms of Mrs. Reva Akens and Mrs. Judith Adams, were spread around in other classrooms at Quito to finish out the week. They were not present during the fire because it occurred after school had been dismissed for the day.

The only pupils on the schoolground were in a recreation program, and were kept away from the fire and equipment brought in to fight it.

Trustees had strong praise for those who dealt with the emergency, beginning with Donald Williams, fifth grade son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Williams, 18859 Devon Avenue, Saratoga, who saw it and told a teacher. Stan Shiba, fifth grade teacher, notified the office.

The fire was started by wax being melted into Christmas candles on a counter near a sink. The damage, set between $10,000 and $12,000 is covered by insurance carried by the school district.

Local graduate wins fellowship

Miss Lois Siegel, a 1959 Campbell High School graduate, has been named a candidate for a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship, according to an announcement from the Fellowship Foundation in Princeton, New Jersey.

In order to focus on the country's need for more college teachers, the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation, supported since 1958 by Ford Foundation grants totalling $52 million annually awards 1,000 fellowships for first year graduate study to young men and women adjudged to have the potential to become college teachers.

Miss Siegel, according to Principal Robert Culp of Campbell High School, was an exceptionally brilliant student, maintaining an "A" average for four years. She majored in English and was a frequent contributor to the "Prism", a creative writing project at Campbell High School. She also rated high on the College Merit Scholarship examinations. Following graduation Miss Siegel enrolled at the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Other Woodrow Wilson Fellowship candidates from Campbell High School have been John Carl Beyer, 1962, and Stephen Carl Hunter, 1961. Campbell High School is the only school in the Campbell District to have graduates named as Woodrow Wilson Fellowship candidates.

Industry asked to support Science Fair Association

Board members of the Santa Clara Valley Sciences Fair Association are launching a fund-raising appeal to local industries, labor unions, professional groups and individuals to support the budget for this year's fair. They hope to reach many of those who want to encourage youngsters showing an aptitude for scientific careers.

Many boys and girls who have exhibited their projects in past science fairs have won scholarships and research grants to pursue scientific degrees in colleges and universities.

According to a Department of Labor study, the United States' need for engineers and scientists will double in the next ten years. The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare estimates the need at 72,000 new engineers and scientists annually.

Civic-minded businessmen who sponsor the sciences fair each year have incorporated as a non-profit organization with Everett H. Layne as president. Layne is a specialist in engineering administration with General Electric's Atomic Power Department Department.

Robert Chapman, treasurer of the newly-organized group, is chairman of the fund appeal launched this week.

The fifth annual Santa Clara Valley Science Fair is scheduled for March 19 through 21. These men are determined it will be even more successful than past fairs.

Lutheran Church will present Yule program

Zion Lutheran Sunday School, corner of Payne and Eden Avenues in San Jose, is presenting its annual Christmas program on December 20 in the main church.

There will be two presentations of the Christmas story, one given by the nursery and primary departments, including kindergarten through third grade. Mrs. Sally Siefkes is director of this program which will begin at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. Another presentation by fourth graders through high school age will be given at 7:30, of which Mrs. Ingeborg Magnuson is in charge.

All members of the congregation and general public are cordially invited to attend.

Pharmaceutical group installs

Mrs. Frank Artana of San Jose will be installed as president of the Santa Clara County Pharmaceutical Association Auxiliary in an informal ceremony at the group's annual Christmas luncheon party at the Hyatt House Thursday, December 17.

An elegant holiday menu, a gift exchange and the appearance of Santa Claus will be included in the festivities.

Mrs. Jack Labourdette, first vice-president, will also take office, along with Mmes. Leonard Kuhn, second vice-president; Milo Kentera, corresponding secretary; Paul Letsinger, recording secretary; Salvatore Fanciullo, treasurer, and Past President Mrs. John Savage, parliamentarian.

The luncheon, set for 12:30 p.m., will be preceded by cocktails.

West Valley women may make reservations with Mrs. Savage. Saratoga, 867-9760.

Nurse refresher class available

Registered nurses of Campbell who have been absent from their profession for five years or more are asked to enroll in an 11-week refresher course to begin in January at San Jose Hospital.

Applicants must hold a valid State of California nursing registration, according to Mrs. Ruth Slavik, R. N., San Jose Hospital in-service education supervisor.

Classes are limited so former nurses are urged to enroll now by contacting either Mrs. Slavik or the hospital's personnel department at 292-3212.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM C. HOLLEY JR.

Sharon Patton is bride of William C. Holley

Several hundred friends and relatives attended the wedding of Miss Sharon Mary Patton and Lieutenant Willman Chipman Holley Jr. at the Queen of Apostles Church recently. The double ring ceremony was held at 7 p.m. in the evening. Reverend Louis P. Senesac officiated.

The diminutive bride was attired in the traditional white satin gown, styled with a fitted bodice, portrait neckline and long sleeves. The midriff was trimmed with Venice lace appliques and the bell skirt had a detachable Chapel length train. Her illusion veil was held in place by a pill box of matching satin lace. Her unique bouquet featured pink baby roses, white carnation buds and ivy, and a pearl Prayer Book.

Patty Patton had the role of her sister's Maid of Honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Trish Freudiger and Linea Nygren. They were attired in matching floor length gowns of wine velvet with pink crepe skirts. The empire waistlines were accented with satin bands and bows at the back. Their bouffant veils were attached to small open ring pill boxes. They carried cascades of shaded pink carnations. Little Kathy Wardy was the Flower Girl and Bobby Moore served as the Ring Bearer.

Treg Tregillis of Las Vegas was the best man. Ushers were Walt Youngman and Ron Rossi, Sigma Chi fraternity brothers.

A reception for the newlyweds was held at the Golden Doors. Champagne punch was served from a silver fountain and the couple cut a beautiful four tiered wedding cake decorated in pink and white. The cake was topped with a miniature floral arrangement which was an exact duplicate of the bride's bouquet.

Following a honeymoon to Lake Tahoe the newlyweds traveled to Fort Eustis, Virginia, where Lt. Holley is stationed with the U. S. Army.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil M. Patton of 1773 Palo Santo Drive, Campbell. She is a graduate of Campbell High School and attended San Jose City College.

Lieutenant Holley is the son of Col. and Mrs W. C. Holley Sr., (Ret.) of 2781 Lena Drive, San Jose. He is a graduate of Monterey High School and San Jose State College.
